PSYCHOANALYTIC STUDIES CLINICAL, SOCIAL, AND CULTURAL CONTEXTS

SERIES EDITOR: MICHAEL O'LOUGHLIN, ADELPHI UNIVERSITY

Psychoanalytic Studies seeks psychoanalytically informed works addressing the implications of the location of the individual in clinical, social, cultural, historical, and ideological contexts. Innovative theoretical and clinical works within psychoanalytic theory and in fields such as anthropology, education, and history are welcome. Projects addressing conflict, migrations, difference, ideology, subjectivity, memory, psychiatric suffering, physical and symbolic violence, power, and the future of psychoanalysis itself are welcome, as are works illustrating critical and activist applications of clinical work.

Series Editor:

Michael O'Loughlin, PhD, is professor in the School of Education as well as clinical and research supervisor in the clinical psychology doctoral program at the Derner Institute of Advanced Psychological Studies, Adelphi University. He has authored, coauthored, or edited nine books, and he writes extensively about childhood issues, intergenerational trauma, and psychosis. He is currently co-editor of Psychoanalysis, Culture & Society.

PROPOSAL GUIDELINES

To submit a manuscript for consideration by Lexington Books, please send:

- a prospectus (see below for details)
- a detailed table of contents
- one or two sample chapters
- your curriculum vitae

If you are proposing a contributed volume, please include titles, affiliations, and brief resumes for each of the contributors, as well as chapter abstracts.

The prospectus should include:

1. A description of the book, describing the core themes, arguments, issues, goals, and/or topics of the work, what makes it unique, what questions it seeks to answer, and why you are qualified to write it. (2-5 pages)
2. A description of your target audience (undergraduate or graduate students? scholars? professionals?).
3. An analysis of competing or similar books (including publishers and dates), indicating distinctive and original elements of your project that set it apart from these other works.
4. A list of courses in which your book might be used as a text or supplementary text, indicating the course level at which this book may be used.
5. An indication of whether any part of your manuscript has been published previously, and if it is a doctoral dissertation, what changes you are proposing to prepare it for publication.
6. The length of the manuscript either as a word count or a page count (12-point type on double-spaced 8.5"×11" pages). Will there be figures, tables, or other non-text material, and, if so, approximately how many? If the text is not complete, please still estimate its final length, not including the non-text material.
7. If the manuscript is not complete, an estimation of when it will be finished. Is there a particular date by which you hope the book will be published (due to a historical anniversary, conference, etc.?)
8. The names of four to seven respected scholars in your field with whom you have no personal or professional relationship. Include their titles, affiliations, e-mail addresses, and/or mailing addresses.
9. An indication of whether the manuscript is under consideration by other publishers.

Please do not send your entire manuscript.
